FOREWORD

Chandra Shekhar Azad University of Agriculture & Technology, Kanpur is a premier agricultural institution serving the nation since 1893, with a massive commitment towards improving the rural prosperity through education, research and extension activities, in a sustained manner. The University has been addressing the various challenges faced by the agricultural sector, through its basic and applied research initiatives, thereby facilitating a quantum jump in agricultural production and productivity, in addition to improving the quality of human resource in the country. The country is facing several challenges like large acreage under rainfed cultivation, declining soil health, climatic vagaries, inadequate post harvest management strategies, market fluctuations, large proportion of resource poor farmers etc. These challenges call for renewed thrust on improving the productivity of different crops, overcoming biotic and abiotic stresses through innovative technologies and their effective dissemination among the end-users, to bridge the yield gap and also to fully exploit the untapped potential of the crops. There has been a continuous decline in the per capita availability of natural resources like land, water and forests. Even as millions of hectares of forest are lost every year and large number of reforestation efforts have failed, there are smallholder farmers in the world who, for years, have grown and managed their own trees on a sustainable basis. Initially, the department of Forestry was initiated in the year, 2002 with multi-disciplinary approaches and started imparting education leading to B.Sc. (Hon.) Forestry degree under the umbrella of Faculty of Agriculture, Chandra Shekhar Azad University of Agriculture & Technology, Kanpur. Thus, College of Forestry started functioning with interdisciplinary collaboration with other faculties of Agriculture from the year 2002. College and hostel buildings were established on the receipt of grants from State Govt. The educational programmes offered from College of Forestry were as per the guidelines issued by ICAR and ICFRE and also recognized by them Indian Council of Agricultural Research (ICAR) and Indian Council of Forestry Research and Education (ICFRE). Implicit objective of starting forestry education in India through University system was to bring about qualitative improvements in education, research and training. The contribution of forestry education to the general well-being of people, role of these graduates and need of appropriate training are being critically-examined worldwide. The primary focus of the College is on teaching, research and extension and package of practices for sustainable development of forestry and natural resources for the whole society and ethical values of forest community in this changing climate. It also focuses to climate resilience technologies through its Research Development and Technological Innovation for the benefit of farmers, students, professionals, foresters and entrepreneurs. The new building of College of Forestry was constructed in the University Campus in 2006. In the light of changing agriculture scenario, it is imperative that our approaches be capable of attaining the highest level of excellence towards forestry education in the state of Uttar Pradesh, thereby, contributing towards food, fodder, fibre and nutritional security of the nation.

I appreciate the efforts of HOD and his team for their excellent contribution in preparing this document.

6.4.5 Conduct of Practical and Hands-on Training

It is important to have a sound grasp of the theory that underlies any professional degree. But there are some skills that can only be learned through hands-on -practice. It is important that much of the learning material in any given course should be provided in a way that allows students to get as involved as possible to increase their knowledge and abilities. Clearly mention how far students are getting desired practical and hands-on-training as per the curriculum and meeting above mentioned requirements.

Practicals for all courses are conducted as per the requirements of the degree. While conducting the Practical first the students are instructed about the procedures and practices they have to follow, while accomplishing the exercise. Thereafter, the students are guided for hands on practice for doing the practical exercise at his/her own to build up confidence in the students for independent accomplishment of the exercise.

6.4.7 Feedback of stakeholder (Students, parents, industries, employers, farmers etc.)

Mention the feedback mechanism (duly supported by the documents) from different stakeholders of the degree programme. What action the University has taken in last five years to address the issues raised in the feedback?

There is a well-developed mechanism for seeking feed-back from students regarding teaching-learning process. University developed proforma is provided to students every year on last day of examination in order to record their responses to queries related to syllabus, course outlines, teaching, administrative services, lab, and other facilities provided to them. The Report is then summarized by keeping all the responses systematically and provide a cumulative assessment of the questionnaire. The summary on Course / Course Outline, Teamwork Opportunity / Expert Lectures and Visits /Extra-curricular, Teacher-Student Relationship/Internal Assessments and Assignments, Hostel/ Healthcare, University/Teaching Appraisal, Library/ Computers, Administration/Yoga/NSS/NCC, Laboratories, Good Points of Teaching, Difficulties, and Suggestions are shared among the faculty for further reference and follow up action. The College invited the members of the business community and industrialists a number of times and received a feedback from them. The Industrialists are looking forward to this wonderful University in a bigger and better role of collaboration. They found the University's endeavor to join hands with the entrepreneurs, an immensely positive step. The Industrial community foresees the University as a vehicle of immense growth and productivity in the business and economic activities in area jurisdiction of university. They are of the view that the University can give boost to several Forestry based industries. It can help to set up food processing units, encourage food export, provide employment and benefit the service sector, provide technical knowhow for the Growth of Forestry based industries in collaboration with the University, will directly lead to better business, development of warehouses, stimulus to transport industry, cold storages etc. As an educational institute, the University can refurbish the image of farming and encourage the local youth to join the University and gain scientific knowledge. This youth will then be a major human resource for the food industries here, something which is at present lacking. The industrialists expect the University to collaborate and partner with them for a better future of agriculture. They look forward to trainings, webinars, conferences, and meeting on a common platform. They aspire to get commercially viable, high value agro- products which can be processed in the industrial units.

The feedbacks on various problems related to forestry sector are collected through State Forest Department and Forest Department as well as by organizing the field days, field visits, farmers' training, etc. Based on feedback, College has prioritized research areas and is currently involved in production of quality planting material of the medicinal plants, forest trees and shrubs. Strong linkages have been developed with Krishi Vigyan Kendra (KVKs) and state departments.

6.5.3. Learning resources:

Learning resources are texts, videos, software, and other ICT enabled materials that teachers use to assist students to meet the expectations for learning defined by ICAR recommended curricula. Information on the following shall be submitted.

The department is fully equipped with digital classroom facilities since 2015-16 for U.G. Students through power point presentation and by internet facilities. Technology enabled learning resources have been embedded in imparting quality education in the college. The main aim of technology-enabled learning is to emphasize the accessibility to quality teaching and learning with the help of the innovative application of information and communication technologies (ICTs). Use of ICT tools provided a transformative effect on teaching and learning by focusing on Policy/Technology-Capacity as a triangle and to base practice on research evidence.

The Technology-Enabled Learning was emphasized on the following initiatives:

- Development and implementation of the ICT tools and techniques in education and open educational resources (OER) policies to strengthen policy implementation .
- Supporting innovative researches on technology-enabled learning for evidence-based advocacy and decision making .
- Helping the institution to use technology-enabled learning for the extension program delivery .
- Promoting the use of open source technologies and OER for skills development.

The success of online or blended learning delivery is, to a large extent, dependent on the knowledge, expertise, support and leadership available in the transition to this new way of learning. In addition, quality teaching is a long-standing challenge in higher education where faculties are not so qualified to teach. In order to use online and blended learning but maintain or enhance quality teaching, more work to identify, disseminate, and implement best practices is required. Other important technology enabled learning tools invariably followed in the University are Video based learning, Mobile learning, Tablets, Learning Apps and Micro-learning etc.

6.5.3.1 College Library (digital):

Mention the information about location of the library, present staff position (in place) and availability of Wi-Fi, sufficient books and other reading materials, periodicals and research journals, internet with sufficient number of computers, seating capacity, employing the latest technology in library sciences, stocking arrangements, collection of volumes on different subjects, latest publications in the fields of relevant subjects, automation and user services through computer, opening hours, subscription of journals of national and international repute, national dailies, magazines etc.

C.S. Azad University of Agriculture & Technology, Kanpur have Central Library with huge quantity of books, periodicals, journals, magazines, current affairs and some journals are also available online. A book club is readable also available within the departments having books. The Library is one of the most important center of the University, which facilitates the teaching, research and extension programmes. Both the faculty and students extensively use this facility. The Chandra Shekhar Azad University of Agriculture & Technology, Kanpur has, therefore, given key prominence to the development of the library facilities at the headquarters as well as at the constituent colleges and research campuses.

The Library was established in 1906 as a part of the Agricultural School Library. A magnificent building was constructed for the Library. After the school was upgraded as the Government Agricultural College, Kanpur the library was further developed and strengthened. The library served the college of the Agriculture from 1928-1969 and later on UPIAS from 1969- 1975. Later on it was renamed as Institute of Agricultural Sciences finally, it was elevated to the status of Central Library in 1975. The Central Library continued in its building till 1984 as a part of CSAUA&T. The Central Library was shifted to a newly constructed building adjoining its original building, (which is now used as office of the Registrar). Books, periodicals, theses, reports, maps and encyclopedia relevant to the mandate areas of the university have been stocked in the University Library and its constituent centres.

Thus, the Library is an oldest establishment, having good collection of valuable and rare books, reference books, periodicals, thesis, subjective and competitive magazines, reports, bulletins, encyclopedias, maps gazetteers, dictionaries, agricultural statistical records etc.

The function of library is to enhance status of teaching research and extension through availability of latest literature and also help full in updating the knowledge of readers. Central Library is fulfilling all the requirements needed for students' researchers and extension personnel of the university. It has well developed infrastructure with all essential sections i.e. circulation, technical, processing, periodicals, books and computer information centre etc. Library is also supported with ERNET connectivity. It has online facilities for search of literature available in the library. The modernization process of Central Library is in progress. Since the beginning, efforts have been made to meet the requirements of teaching, research and extension activities of the University and its collection has reached 62,995 volumes consisting of books, theses and journals. All the books, Journals and theses have been automated with barcode facilities.

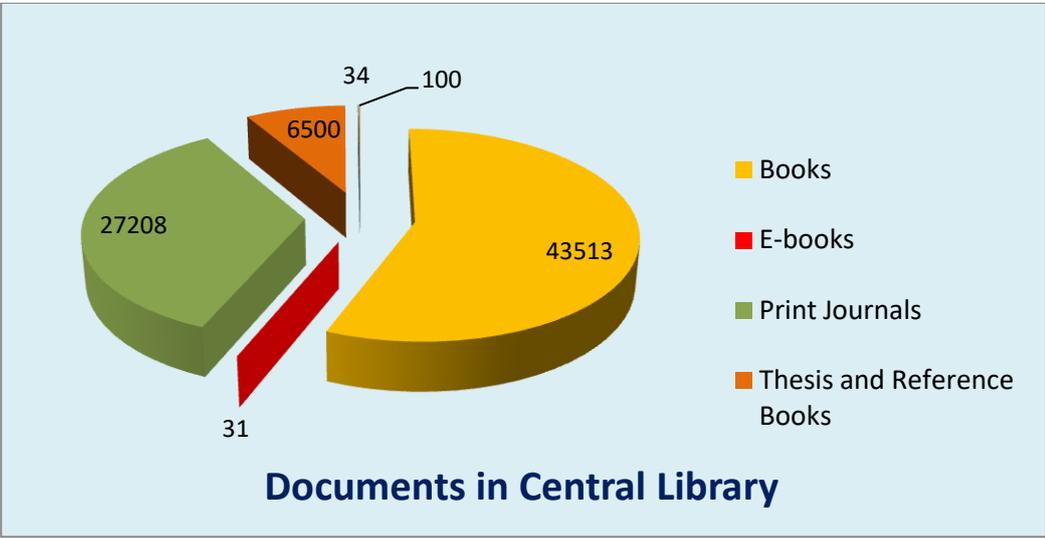

During the last decade, efforts have been made to keep abreast of information technology and introduce modern systems of library management and service. Thus, several journals that were hitherto obtained as “hard copies” have been discontinued in favour of the CD-ROM version of the journals. This has facilitated a tremendous improvement in the usage of the library for reference purposes especially by the research students and staff. Despite these initiatives, there is a genuine feeling that the University Library can further enhance its role in serving the needs of its users.

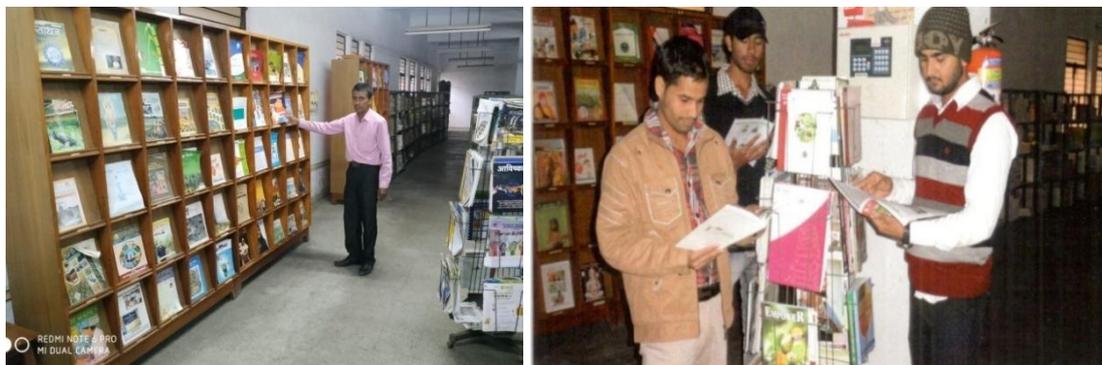

The University has been brain storming this with much concern and hopes to reach a solution to circumvent this problem. Inter-University Library linkage is one of the approaches that is being actively pursued to enhance the literature coverage for the leaders. For the first time biometric machine has also been installed in the library for the employees working there.

In addition a large number of bound volumes of periodicals, pamphlets, reports, theses, maps and micro-films, CD ROM etc. are also available. The information provided gives a comprehensive picture of different kinds of documents available in the Library. Further, the subject-wise distribution of bound volumes of books and journals are shown in Figure.
